I am not aware of any page like what you describe. The website addresses how contractors can do work with EPA. On sites in which EPA does work, we use one of the contractors with which we have negotiated region-wide contracts for Superfund. Those contractors then secure subs for specific projects if necessary. I suggest that you review EPA's contracting policy if you are interested in working on a Superfund site.

Best of luck,

Michael

Michael

Quick question for you. I have been searching on the EPA website, trying to find an "Active" projects list that are going to go out for bid soon. Do you know if there is such a link that shows upcoming procurements? I'm having no luck finding any information like that. Thanks.

Sincerely,

Carl,
 Thank you for your interest. As we have not yet selected a remedy, there is no timetable for the start of any work. If you have questions about EPA's procurement methods, please take a look at our website, epa.gov. There are pages that should answer your questions.
 Michael

Hello Michael

I wanted to check with you and see if this project will be going out for bid in the near future. This is exactly the type of work that we do. Please let me know how the procurement is being handled. We would enjoy providing a cost estimate and proposal for this project. Thanks again.

I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,
